
“Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God” (1 John 3:1).

Daylight saving time ends at 2:00 a.m. on Sunday, November 1, 2009. Change your clock back one hour on Saturday night and enjoy an extra hour's sleep in the morning.

This is also a good time to replace batteries in your smoke alarms. Fresh batteries work so much better!

Around the World in 31 days (plus 15 more)

We have decided to extend the Walk Around the World contest through November 15. This gives you 15 more days to get in as many steps as possible toward winning the prize—two tickets to Sight and Sound Theater in Lancaster, PA (you choose the dates), plus a $25 gas card to help you get there.

Come on, help us walk around the world! Strap on your pedometer and get moving—it's not too late to help us reach our goal (and maybe win the grand prize!). Walk anywhere and everywhere, as much as you can; the steps add up quickly. Check out the map in the breezeway to see our progress. If you are using the tracking sheet to record your steps, just start over on November 1 on the square that has the date of October 1 or do whatever works the easiest for you. Turn in your steps record to Human Resources by November 16 or by November 19, to be eligible for the prize. We appreciate all who have been keeping track, and we want to encourage you to keep moving—it really is worth your time! Take the challenge and move toward a healthier you. Don't forget, family members can participate as well—we want everyone to get moving!

New Product Highlights

Title: Welcome to Our Humble Commode

Author: Randy Fishell

Listen up for laughs! Award-winning author Randy Fishell didn't need a travel budget to find amazing, true, and usually wacky incidents for his latest collection of stories. The home-front fun spans the gamut, from buying a house and filling it with a family to heroic efforts at keeping both in good working order. Join the author as he recalls:

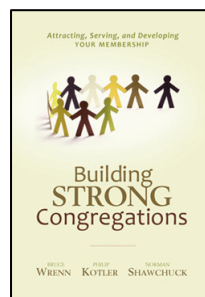

plumbing the depths of leaky water pipes, a cucumber patch with a guard tower, the case of the stinky vacation cabin, Dad's double-header horror at Wrigley Field, tracking an evasive rodent . . .

Along the way, discover something about grace and how it can make the space between your four walls a more wonderful place to call home.

Title: Building Strong Congregations

Author: Bruce Wrenn, Ph.D., Philip Kotler, Ph.D., Norman Shawchuck, Ph.D.

You probably have a fairly good idea of what it took to construct the building in which your congregation meets. First, there was a recognized need for a building, followed by a budget, blueprints, fund-raising, construction workers, and building materials, and voila! The structure proudly stands as a monument to the effective implementation of a well-thought-out plan. The process of building a strong congregation is basically the same. And you've got to start with a plan.

Building Strong Congregations contains the tools you need to make your congregation's ministry more effective. Worksheets after each chapter walk you through a step-by-step application of the material covered and help you put together a plan of action. You'll also learn how to find answers unique to your organization for such questions as:

What is your congregation's mission? Whom should your congregation try to reach, and how? What does your congregation have to offer? Why should people choose to associate with your congregation and not the one down the street? How would their needs be met? How do you ensure that they will want to remain participants in the life and ministry of your congregation?

Resource CD included.
